

Wavelet Talk at IACS

Giving a talk on the wavelet compression search at Stony Brook's Institute for Advanced Computational Science, whose machines had been running it.

december 7, 2016 · Press on 7 december 2016 the institute for advanced computational science at stony brook had me in to talk about the wavelet work, under the title the research already carried: optimal wavelet bases for audio compression.

iacs was where the search had been running.
